International Partnership with the University of the Philippines College of Nursing

Our college conducts a collaborative programme with the University of the Philippines College of Nursing in Manila.

Currently, this involves our students visiting Manila to learn about the Philippine Nursing and Healthcare system. In the future we hope to expand this program to involve genuine exchange and hope to be able to welcome UPCN students to Hiroshima.

The outbound program gives our students the valuable opportunity to study alongside Philippine nursing students, to discuss differences between their respective nursing cultures and education, and to observe the Philippine students’ clinical practice in the Philippine General Hospital. And of course, the experience also provides an introductory taste of the lifestyle and culture of Philippines.
